My fav' little peavey monitors powered them into black plastic cabinets that also doubled as floor wedges, but there are also excellent and useful, kind of boxes worth grabbing if you see them in good condition with/h as a total extra speaker cabin unit for all kinds of purposes. These boxes are reliable and can stand a lot of abuse while sounding decent and being available. Good stuff with lots of energy, they are an excellent general purpose box you can use for FOH, wedge (kind) and also I used them a lot for the drummer monitor. (Back to the top) PA System Peavey Euros3 Speakers with Soundlab power mixer. Used in the rehearsal room and never played. The carpet goes off on top of one of the speakers, but it's just cosmetic wear. Everything is in working order. Average score:5.0 (5/5 based on 2 reviews) Peavey EuroSys 3Used in the home studio in the evening sound and the bands (in bars) have a power mixer Yamaha EMX640. Indestructible, sound great clarity and good coverage of all frequencies. 3 out of 6 people have found this review useful Peavey EuroSys 3About 5 years that I use them, they always work perfectly. Rich bass and medium-triple are all right (double piezo). 300 W program and 150 W RMS. I regularly send them up to 300 W RMS, and they keep. We believe that they work full throttle, but the sound is of good quality and even full power. Good quality Ebenisteri. Jack 6.35 for connections. peavey euros3 speakers specification
