Osrs barrows guide low level weapons maps free

He is weak to air spells; however, any magic spell will work with at least tier-70 equipment. Higher-levelled players with stronger equipment can defeat him with any style. Killing order Killing order may make a difference to some players. Linza is guaranteed to never appear in the catacombs. Barrows amulets Barrows amulets are an item that may be obtained from looting Barrows: Rise of the Six chests. Use a defender with the dragon dagger if you have it. Karil With Karil, you can find him in the South, and you should pray range. The last brother (chosen from any brother except Linza) will be lurking about in the catacombs. Like Akrisae, Linza does not have any offensive set effects; instead, it is defensive. Max Guild PvM portal - This option is just as fast as Drakan's medallion; however, it requires level 99 in every skill. Low-level method Low-level players will have to plan their fights strategically to minimise the use of food and supplies. If the brother is not killed when the player leaves their crypt, they despawn and must be resummoned again, returning with full health. This section or article is incomplete. Strategy: Barrows Brothers Order When it comes to the kill order, it is recommended that you start with Dharok, then you move on to Verac, then Karil, then Ahrim, and then Guthan and Torag. Lower levels may need to take on monsters one at a time to increase their killcount. Ranged and magic attacks are the best styles of combat, as high levelled melee weapons can still miss against him. When killing the final brother, pause momentarily before looting the chest, to ensure the game will recognise him as defeated. You also may want to use the Neitzitnoo helm and dragon boots. You may want to kill each brother for less than 20 seconds so as not to drain your prayer. This setup costs 1,000,000. High-Level Setup For the high level, you may want to bring teleports and ice spells. Guthan can also steal your health. For most players, these fight will not be long enough to warrant the use of damage boosting abilities such as Sunshine, and almost every damage-dealing ultimate (such as Omnipower) do not deal enough damage to warrant the expense of 100% adrenaline. Karil is easily taken down with melee attacks; however higher-levelled players with stronger equipment can defeat him with any style. to have a chance at a Dragon med helm, you need to have killed at least 6 brothers). This is based on the highest priority to pray against and then to the lowest. When damaged, she has a small chance of reflecting damage back at the player. Verac Verac can be found Northwest and is weak to magic, with a max hit of 15 with prayer on. Mid-level method Mid-level players cannot power through the brothers as quickly as high-level players can; however, they can still manage fairly well with proper strategies and levels. Defeating Verac adds the following items as potential loot to the chest: Akrisae the Doomed is a seventh wight added to the Barrows after completing Ritual of the Mahjarrat. Other helpful items Strategy High-level method Main article: Money making guide/High level Barrows As the Brothers all have level 70 stats, players with high stats (90+) and equipment (tier 80+) can simply power through every brother. Which brother to skip? He is weak to earth spells; however, any magic spell will work with at least tier-70 equipment. Instead, Akrisae has the ability to react to a player's combat style and pray against it, completely negating damage. Defeating Ahrim adds the following items as potential loot to the chest: Item GE value Ahrim's hood 779,566 Ahrim's robe top 2,534,956 Ahrim's robe skirt 1,401,853 Ahrim's staff 4,984,576 Ahrim's wand 941,047 Ahrim's book of magic 1,311,616 Total Value: 11,953,614 Dharok the Wretched is a melee-using brother who attacks with his greataxe. Below is a suggestion for choosing a priority for which brother to use the amulets on: Akrisae - Requires 2 styles; however if you are only here for kill count, Akrisae may be ignored completely Dharok - Highest potential to do serious damage, especially to lower levels Karil - Strong against magic, which may be your most used style; helps negate switching styles Ahrim - Neutral against magic, which may be your most used style; helps negate switching styles Verac - Potential to deal damage, as he can ignore armour rating; however still not very dangerous Guthan - Potential for longer fights, but only for lower levels Torag - Effectively drains 1.2% adrenaline per attack, which is relatively negligible Barrows amulets do not work on Linza's tomb. The special for Verak is that he can hit through armor as well as prayer. In the centre of the crypt is a room with a chest. Barrows Location To get there, you may want to use the Barrows Teleport, the Canifis Teleport, the Fairy ring codes BIP or BKR, the Morty Hard Legs, or Shades of Mort'ton. He is weak to magic as well as melee. Solutions Decreasing number of sides Looting in the final room is the chest containing your loot. Providing an incorrect solution will lock you out of that path and move the puzzle door to a different hallway. It is also helpful if you have already completed the Underground Pass/Floor from Deep/Lost City quest. Without the medallion, your may make your way back to the rope used to enter the catacombs, unless running low on supplies, where you should teleport out instead to restock. Safespotting Barrows You should run and trap them on the other side. His attacks have a 1/4 chance of healing him for the damage he dealt. Kill count If you are here solely for kill count, you must defeat all 6 of the original brothers. He is weak to water spells; however, any magic spell will work with at least tier-70 equipment. For the hard mode strategy guide, see here. Doing so will allow you to attack from afar, minimising damage.Inventory 1001000100010001000 Using barrows amulets, it is possible to use magic exclusively. Barrows amulets may be used to skip up to 3 of the brothers' tombs per run. There are four possible puzzles, each with 2 incorrect solutions and 1 correct solution. Defeating Akrisae adds the following items as potential loot to the chest: Linza the Disgraced is an eighth wight added to the Barrows after completing Kindred Spirits. Use melee over magic at a medium level too. They may only be attacked by the player who summoned them. They do not need to be killed in any order, and barrows amulets may be used on any brother without much discretion. Usually this is one of the type of monsters already in that room; however, there is also a chance that any of the undefeated brothers will spawn, including the brother whose tomb you used to enter the tunnels. It is recommended to stock up on amulets ahead of time to avoid being stuck unable to skip a brother. The chest may be looted at any time, even before the final brother is dead; however, doing so will prevent that brother's items from being added to the loot table. Use Dharok's top. You may want to use an Iban staff against him. His attacks have a 1/4 chance to drain 5% adrenaline. This page covers strategies for effectively playing the Barrows minigame. Recommended Low-Level Stats/Gear Here, you should have level 43 prayer, level 60 attack, level 60 strength, level 60 defense, level 50 magic, level 50 range, and 70 HP. The fairy ring in Mort Myre Swamp can be accessed by code BKR. Depending on your armige, you may need more or less food than the example shown. Abilities such as Delibitate and Anticipation can be used on any brother to reduce damage taken for a period of time. Players with at least level 70 stats and equipment should be able to increase their killcount quickly by using multitarget abilities. The interface that shows the puzzle may be interrupted by combat. This damage is random, regardless of how much damage is actually dealt. He attacks with his war mace, using basic magic attacks, and unlike the other brothers, has no offensive set effect. Your objective here is to traverse to the centre to loot the chest. Inventory 10010000 For mid level players, it is more beneficial to focus on the brothers' weaknesses to ensure a smooth trip; however, with tier 70+ magic equipment, a single spell element should suffice. Karil's tomb is the southernmost mound. Dharok's tomb is the north-east mound. With the use of the Canifis lodestone and the swamp boat, almost every player should be able to return in a timely manner. Ahrim's tomb lies in the centre of the graveyard. It will also not count towards the Beasts tab/soul reaper (unless the brother who was spawned is Akrisae). All regular monsters inside the crypt are extremely weak compared to the brothers. With Guthan in the southeast, he has a max hit of 24, and Torag in the southwest has a max hit of 23. Furthermore, it can be used to teleport directly south of the Burgh De Rott bank, which players can enter to be healed. Verac (Weak to Earth spells and North West) - Next highest potential to damage, as he can ignore armour rating Guthan (Weak to Air and South East) - Potential for longer fights, fight him while you still have food Torag (Weak to Water and South West) - Least dangerous melee brother, fight him with magic last Karil (Weak to stab and South Middle) - Fight after the melee brothers as he can drain Magic, but fight before Ahrim, as Ahrim can drain your Strength Ahrim (Weak to arrows and Middle) - Not a very dangerous fight; stat draining of Karil and Ahrim put this brother strategically last Killing With proper armour rating and prayers, it is unlikely that any brother except for Dharok will be able to do a significant amount of damage. Bringing nature runes to bind the melee-using brothers is also highly recommended. Defeating Verac adds the following items as potential loot to the chest: Akrisae the Doomed is a seventh wight added to the Barrows after completing Ritual of the Mahjarrat. Other helpful items Strategy High-level method Main article: Money making guide/High level Barrows As the Brothers level, these fight should not be long enough to warrant the use of damage boosting abilities such as Sunshine, and almost every damage-dealing ultimate (such as Omnipower) do not deal enough damage to warrant their use. Linza should be skipped if not going for the Graverobber title, as her high health and extreme rarity of her items will greatly hamper kill rates. This significantly reduces the amount of supplies required for a full run; for players who have trouble killing every brother in a single inventory, using only magic is recommended. He uses fire spells, and with every attack, he has a 1/4 chance of draining your Strength level. Your gear here would cost 500,000. Tips and Tricks Right-click and hold to use the duel ring so that you would not be interrupted by dangers. Kill the brothers first before you enter the crypts. For players with Drakan's medallion, one method is to teleport to Burgh de Rott and heal in the bank, and then back to Barrows, saving large amounts of food. Monsters Every time you pass through a door, a monster will spawn. If done properly, you will not need to use any food as they will probably not even get the chance to attack. Defeating Guthan adds the following items as potential loot to the chest: Karil the Tainted is the ranged-using brother of the group. The tunnels A map of the tunnels The last brother will lead to a tunnel below the crypts. Minimum Low-Level Setup When it comes to your minimum low-level setup, you may want to have level 43 prayer, level 60 attack, level 60 strength, level 40 defense, level 50 magic, 0 for range, and 60 HP. Monsters will not be aggressive when you are standing right in front of the door, so kill anything that is attacking you before attempting the puzzle. Guthans/Torag's They are almost the same where you have to pray melee, and they are both weak to magic. Looting Killing the regular monsters inside the crypt is not necessary to increase the chances of obtaining a unique piece of Barrows equipment. Depending on your exact strategy, you may or may not need prayer potions. Defeating monsters increases the chances of certain items being dropped. Defeating Verac adds the following items as potential loot to the chest: Akrisae the Doomed is a seventh wight added to the Barrows after completing Ritual of the Mahjarrat. Other helpful items Strategy High-level method Main article: Money making guide/High level Barrows As the Brothers center, and he is weak to range with a max hit of 20. When using prayer, always be sure to bring extra potions, as simply being inside the Barrows' tombs or crypt can drain your prayer points. Using the ability Smash temporarily disables his prayers if it hits; however, it does not last very long. It's only a short distance from the ring to the swamp boat. For food and potions, bring 5 to 6 prayer potions, a super attack potion, a super strength potion, a restore potion, and a stamina potion. Below is just one example for kill order: Dharok (Weak to Fire spells and North East) - Highest potential to hit hard, fight him while you still have food. Unlike other reflect-like abilities used by other monsters, she does not take reduced damage when this effect goes off. You also don't need to use much prayer potions with this setup. Only players with no means of returning to the Barrows quickly should consider running through the crypt again to escape. Defeating Torag adds the following items as potential loot to the chest: Verac the Defiled is a melee-using brother who attacks with his flail. He can also lower your attack, defense, as well as your strength. Players who opt to use multiple styles will need to make sure they are using the proper armour before beginning. One should note however, certain rare rewards require more brothers to be killed (ex. You may also want to do Zul'rah if you have high stats. Linza is the only wight that will never appear in the catacombs. Inventory 10001000100010001000 Players with low combat levels may have the hardest time creating an equipment set up to take on the Barrows brothers as they will likely have to focus on not only offense for attacking the brothers, but defence as well to survive their attacks. They also hit inaccurately. The recommended levels are level 70 for prayer, level 75 for an attack, level 70 strength, level 70 defense, level 75 magic, level 75 range, and 85 HP. He attacks with his crossbow, and with every attack, there is a 1/4 chance that he will drain your Magic level. That said, killcount does increase the chances of receiving rare, non-Barrows items; e.g., dragon helm. Investigating the chest will open it and spawn the brother whose tomb was used to enter the crypt. If you are at a low level and you make the strongest ones the last opponents, you might die in the end when you are already up against them. Here you will need to use rune arrows. The only caveat with this method is the cost and supply of barrows amulets. It is highly recommended for all players to simply teleport out of the tunnels. Simply cast the binding spell on the brother then step away and continue fighting. If you have trouble fighting all brothers in a single inventory of supplies, you are allowed to restock at a bank without any penalty. You will want to use your prayer on those that are harder to pray against instead of the lowest. Disable your run then, and attack the brothers. Medium Level Setup You may want to have level 43 prayer, level 70 attack, level 70 strength, level 70 defense, 50 magic, level 60 range, and 70 HP for the medium level. However, if the brother is dealt a fatal hit just as the player leaves, then the kill will still count. Getting there Drakan's medallion - This is the fastest means of travel to the Barrows, having a teleport directly to their graves. 5 of the brothers (or 6 after completing Ritual of the Mahjarrat or Kindred Spirits and even 7 after completing them both) will be at rest in their tombs. Ahrim is easily taken down with ranged attacks; however higher-levelled players with stronger equipment can defeat him with any style. The fastest and most convenient way to escape is to simply use Drakan's medallion with the "Barrows" option (1), teleporting you outside the mounds whilst leaving the medallion's charge intact. Dharok Dharok can be found in the Northeast who uses melee and whose attack is increased by missing HP. Bringing combat boosting potions is highly recommended for mid-level players to keep accuracy and damage as high as possible. You may also use a brooder shield. No charges are consumed due to the relatively short distances. 30 untradeable ones are obtained after completing Missing, Presumed Death. For the locations, you start with the Northeast, then the center in South, then the middle to Ahrim, then Northwest, and finally Southwest for Torag. Do not use this against Dharok. Using mismatched equipment greatly reduces accuracy; double check your equipment before starting a fight. Amulets do not work on the sarcophagus of the final brother in the catacombs; instead, it must be used on the reward chest in order to kill off that brother for that run. They are currently 3,317 on the Grand Exchange. Alternatively players with access to the interior of the Max Guild may chose to teleport there and use the PvM portal instead. Linza should be avoided completely. Linza shares her tomb with Ahrim, residing in a secondary room in Ahrim's crypt in the centre mound. The maximum potential one can achieve is by killing the crypt monsters until the sum of their combat levels equals 1000. The exact equation that is used is explained more here. Both are easier to kill than others. A map of the Barrows (click to view a larger version) The Brothers Ahrim the Blighted is the magic-using brother of the group. Air is recommended for the sake of conserving inventory space. Verac's tomb is the north-west mound. The puzzle The door that leads to the chest has a lock that must be disarmed by solving a simple puzzle. Magic only method Ahrim / Karil - Use an amulet on these brothers, order does not matter Dharok - Highest potential to hit hard, fight him while you still have food; recommended to use your final amulet on him Verac - Next highest potential to damage, as he can ignore armour rating Guthan - Potential for longer fights, fight him while you still have food Torag - Least dangerous melee brother, fight him with magic last Killing Lower-levelled players will want to focus on having the proper armour to defend against each brother's attacks. Use a Torag's platebody instead of a Dharok's platebody. Be mindful of how long your bind lasts (entangle lasts 40 seconds; snare lasts 20), and be ready to cast the spell again when the effect ends. This table has a chance of adding an extra item to your reward chest. They are tradeable on the Grand Exchange, but have a buying limit of 100. Unlike the other brothers, Linza has significantly higher health, making her much more tedious to kill. Akrisae shares his tomb with Verac, residing in a secondary room in Verac's crypt in the north-west mound. The solution to a puzzle is always the same. When you enter the crypts you need to find your way to the center, where your reward chest is located: The path is random, remember you can always teleport out if needed. By skipping Ahrim and Karil, you will only have to fight the melee brothers. Amulets cannot be used on a sarcophagus while the brother inside is spawned for you. Here, the cost will be 5,000,000 or even more. You should also pray melee. To keep equipment switching to a minimum, it is recommended to only bring switches for those 2 slots, and to use hybrid/all equipment in every other slot. Equipment High-level As the Brothers all have level 70 stats, players with high stats (90+) and equipment (tier 80+) can simply power through every brother. She attacks with her hammer, using basic melee attacks. You may want to have more than -30 magic attack bonus and more than nine prayer bonus for the requirements. You need to have completed the Priest in Peril quest and the Restless Ghost quest and Nature's Spirit quest for the quests that you have to do before you do barrows. Players using the magic only method will not need to worry about equipment switching. Games necklace - After gaining enough points from Temple Trekking, a games necklace can be used to teleport directly to Burgh de Rott, which is only a short walk from the Barrows. After completing Nature Spirit, the swamp boat in the middle of the swamp can be taken (for free) to the bridge between Mort'ton and the Barrows. Dharok's max hit is 64 at 1 HP, and there is special bonus damage for health lost. Torag's tomb is the south-west mound. You may also safe spot melee brothers when you are at a lower level. Killing the Brothers For maximum loot potential, each brother must be killed before looting the chest. You have to kill each brother, then use the staircase to leave. The last brother's sarcophagus will lead to the tunnels below (covered in the next section) and he will be fought there. The brothers who are resting in their crypts are summoned by investigating their sarcophagus; when disturbed, they will immediately begin to attack. DO not equip negative magic attack items when you use prayer. This room also has 4 pathways leading to it, but only 1 can be used. Defeating Dharok adds the following items as potential loot to the chest: Guthan the Infested is a melee-using brother who attacks with his warspear. Using Barrows amulets will not prevent you from receiving kill count. You have two options: teleport out, or traverse the maze again to the room you entered from and escape via the rope. Guthan's tomb is the south-east mound. When choosing an order, it is important to consider how each brother may affect the future fights. You can kill them easily. Having a ring of wealth equipped when you loot the chest will not affect Barrows or rare items, instead it adds an extra table in the drop rolls. Monster kills are tracked separately from the barrows brother with a kill counter below the list of defeated brothers. Your prayer will drain once you enter every 20 seconds. Players with low combat stats are recommended to take armour switches that allow them to have a stronger defence rating against each brother. Defeating Linza adds the following items as potential loot to the chest: Item GE Value Linza's helm 2,194,829 Linza's cuirass 3,636,985 Linza's greaves 3,690,545 Linza's shield 2,287,962 Linza's hammer 4,211,278 Total Value: 16,021,599 Playing There are two parts to playing the Barrows minigame: defeating the brothers, and traversing the tunnels. He uses strong melee attacks that increase in power as his life points are lowered. If you accidentally spawn a brother when attempting to use an amulet, leave the tomb and come back. Defeating Karil adds the following items as potential loot to the chest: Item GE value Karil's coil 471,880 Karil's top 2,557,831 Karil's skirt 1,499,085 Karil's crossbow 3,954,941 Karil's pistol crossbow 638,454 Karil's off-hand pistol crossbow 975,482 Total Value: 10,097,673 Torag the Corrupted is a melee-using brother who attacks with his hammer. His attacks have a 1/4 chance to hit regardless of armour rating. Reason: missing magic only recommended equipmentYou can discuss this issue on the talk page or edit this page to improve it. When using magic, it may be effective to use either Entangle or Snare (79 and 50 Magic respectively) on the melee brothers to bind them in place. You need to pray melee against Dharok all the time, and he is weak to magic. The most important slots are your body and legwear slots. Like medium-levelled players, low-levelled players should completely ignore Linza. Barrows Method To do the Barrows mini-game, you just have to dig with a spade on top of the mound and enter the tomb. Be careful when you open doors as brothers may spawn at the same time. Even with sufficient funds to purchase amulets, only 100 can be purchased every 4 hours. In Search of the Myreque unlocks access to the area under the bar in Canifis, which provides a faster route to the swamp boat. Saving adrenaline near the end of the fight will also allow you to use Regenerate to recover lost life points. Use a restore dose after fighting him. It is probably not necessary to bring armour switches, as higher-levelled hybrid armour should suffice with decent Defence levels (80+). Offense-wise, it is recommended to only use basic and threshold abilities. There will also be puzzles, here is the solution for them. Each brother defeated will be listed in the bottom left corner. Whether or not you have completed Ritual of the Mahjarrat, Akrisae can be completely ignored. He is weak to fire spells; however, any magic spell will work with at least tier-70 equipment. You may use any book you have or the book of balance for the book if you have it. Upon entering, you will land in a room with 4 doors, only one of which may be opened. His max hit is 20, and he can lower your agility level. You will begin to take damage at short intervals if you stay inside the tunnel. If that brother was defeated while traversing the tunnels, no brother will spawn, even if there are any left undefeated.
